

Intuitive Announces Transition of Chief Operating Officer Sal Brogna after Two Decades of Service

July 11, 2019 at 4:15 PM EDT

SUNNYVALE, Calif., July 11, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Intuitive (Nasdaq:ISRG), a global technology leader in minimally invasive care and the pioneer of robotic-assisted surgery, today announced Sal Brogna's intent to transition from his role as Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. Brogna will remain with Intuitive through the end of 2019 and plans to serve as a consultant and advisor to the company starting in 2020.

Brogna joined Intuitive in October 1999 and held a number of key roles in the organization over the course of his career, including Executive Vice President of Product Operations, Senior Vice President of Product Development and Vice President of Engineering. Prior to joining Intuitive, Brogna led design and development of complex robotic systems for commercial and industrial use.

"I am thankful for the opportunity Intuitive has afforded me to work with outstanding people inside and outside the organization and proud of the progress we've made together in the past two decades," said Brogna. "At this point in my career, I look forward to stepping back from day-to-day operations and contributing to the solution of some of healthcare's challenges from a broader vantage point."

"Over the past several years, we have formed a strong product operations leadership team, including Brian Miller, Senior Vice President and General Manager, Systems and Vision; Bob DeSantis, Senior Vice President and General Manager for Instruments and Accessories; Colin Morales, Senior Vice President and General Manager for Secondary Market Equipment and Services; and Chris Carlson, Vice President and General Manager for the Endoluminal Division – they are ready to carry operations at Intuitive forward," Brogna said.

"Sal's contributions to Intuitive have been invaluable," said Gary Guthart, Intuitive President and Chief Executive Officer. "During his long tenure with the company, he has played key roles in developing and supplying our portfolio of surgical systems, and in developing the next generation of company leadership. I extend my personal thanks and the thanks of the company for his many contributions, and look forward to continuing our work together in an advisory capacity."

Business unit general managers will report to Intuitive's CEO as part of Brogna's transition.
